Driving Directions:

Driving in Hong Kong is not advisable.

Airport Express from Airport:

HKG airport offers travelers the chance to use the Airport Express, a fast and convenient railway service that runs between the airport and Hong Kong island. The train station is in the Ground Transportation Centre. The Airport Express stops opposite Level 7 on its way in from the city centre so that passengers may step off the train and go straight to check-in. The trains run between 6:30 a.m. and 1:30 a.m., at 10-minute intervals. Travel time to or from downtown Hong Kong is 23 minutes.

Take Airport Express to Hong Kong Station. Then either take a taxi or walk to the office. There is an airport check-in service at Hong Kong Station.

Taxis from Airport:

Taxi ranks are located beside the Ground Transportation Centre on the other side from the bus stations. A typical journey into central Hong Kong from the airport will cost approximately HK$350. Different color taxis serve different destinations. Red (urban) taxis may take their passengers anywhere in Hong Kong (including the airport) except south Lantau and Tung Chung Road. Green (New Territories) taxis go to and from only the New Territories, some places in Lantau, and the airport's Ground Transportation Centre. Blue (Lantau) taxis go to and from Lantau and the airport.
